

Owning a home is much more than a financial transaction. It means independence, growth and a place to share with family and friends. It's also a big responsibility and commitment. We offer the programs and resources that will help you buy a home and be a successful homeowner. Start your path today!

1. Learn about Homeownership

Worried about your credit? Curious about closing costs? Wondering how mortgage insurance works? Homebuyer education or counseling are great ways to start your homeownership journey.

Homebuyer counseling is one-on-one customized meetings with a Homeownership Advisor who designs an action plan to help you get ready to buy a home.

Homebuyer education is a course that covers the steps to buying a home and what to expect during the buying process. Homebuyer education is required for most first-time homebuyers. It's easy and convenient with both in-person and online options available.
